Youthful Prisoners Taken To Joliet Prison An Hour After Sentence is Imposed, Under Heavy Guard.

Criminal Court Room, Chicago, Sept. 10.—Sentence of life imprisonment was imposed today by Chief Justice John R. Caverly on Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb for their murder of Bobby Franks.

The justice also imposed a sentence of 99 years on the charge of kidnaping for ransom. The boys pleaded guilty to both offenses.

Nathan and Richard, sitting on the edge of their chairs at tense attention, received the verdict without a change of expression.

It took them some 30 seconds to realize that they had escaped the noose and settled back in their chairs with a thin smile.

The youthful prisoners were whisked from the room so rapidly by guards that their brothers had no opportunity to shake their hands.

The sentence of the court is a complete victory for the defense attorney, who had based their fight on life sentence as against death on the gallows.

"The prisoners will be taken to the state penitentiary at Joliet within an hour," Sheriff Peter A. Hoffman announced shortly after Nathan and Richard were removed from the court room. The trip—a 40-mile jaunt—will be made by automobile, the sheriff said, heavy guards going with the prisoners.

Smiling and apparently still unconcerned, Leopold and Loeb appeared before Justice Caverly for sentence.

"Do you defendants have anything to say in this case?" Justice Caverly asked.

The boys half rose and nodded in the negative. Then the judge started reading his opinion.

Justice Caverly said because of the great interest that this case has drawn both in Chicago and throughout the land, he felt he should give his reasons for the sentences he was about to impose. He pointed out:

First: That the case was somewhat different from the ordinary pleas of guilty, because no understanding was made with the State's Attorney before pleas were entered.

"The work of the state's attorney was in no way lessened by the pleas of guilty," the justice said. Justice Caverly pointed out that inasmuch as pleas of guilty had been entered compelled him to hear the evidence in aggravation and mitigation of offense.

Justice Caverly said he was satisfied from the evidence that no abuse was practiced on the body of the victim. He said he could find no "mitigating circumstances" in connection with the crime.

The murder, he found, was carefully planned over a long period of time and was a callous act.

The judge pointed out that the crime of kidnaping and murder are punishable by death, life imprisonment, or 14 years.

CORDON OF STEEL AROUND BUILDING

SUCCEEDS FRANKS TRIAL JUDGE ON CRIMINAL BENCH

One result of the Loeb-Leopold trial is the transfer of Justice John R. Caverly, the trial judge, from the criminal division to the chancery division of the Chicago courts. He is succeeded as chief justice of the criminal court by Judge Jacob H. Hopkins (above).

Criminal Courts Structure Encircled As Nathan Leopold, Jr., And Richard Loeb, Millionaire Youths, Await Sentence of Court

THE JUSTICE THREATENED

Assassination Hurled If He Does Impose the Death Penalty, And the Same Fate If He Does Not — Judge Ordered Court Convened At 9:30

Chicago, Sept. 10.—A ring of steel encircled the criminal courts building today as Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, millionaire youths, waited for the fateful moment when Justice John R. Caverly imposes sentence for their murder of Bobby Franks, 14-year-old son of another millionaire family.

Scores of mounted and motorcycle police, armed for instant action, patrolled the streets around the building. Almost solid lines of patrolmen girdled the dingy grey brick court and the gloomy concrete jail, connected by an enclosed steel and concrete bridge. Riot guns were carried by some of the patrolmen.

Rifle squads, under the personal direction of Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes, escorted Justice Caverly from his hotel to the court building.

Justice Caverly ordered every precaution against possible disturbances, either by crowds attempting to storm the building to witness the closing scenes of this most dramatic of all criminal cases or by some fanatic to wreak vengeance on the justice or the slayers.

Many threatening letters have been received by the justice and the boys. Letters to the justice threaten him with death if he does not impose the death penalty, while others threaten the same fate if he does send the youths to the gallows.

Betting on the possible sentence took a shift last night from 5 to 4 that the youths would be sentenced to hang to 5 to 4 that they would get life imprisonment.

Clarence Darrow, chief defense attorney, was confident the boys would be sentenced to life in prison, the sentence he is fighting for.

State's Attorney Crowe, who directed the prosecution, said he felt confident the court would impose the extreme penalty.

GUILD FORMED AT MILLSBORO

Friday night of last week the members of the Golden Hour Circle at Millsboro were graduated into a chapter of Westminster Guild. Mrs. Melvin Moore of Washington, the Presbyterial secretary for the Westminster Guild, was invited to take charge of the organization and installation. The Circle met at the home of Mrs. Frank Fish. A short program incident t o the work was carried out.

The graduation exercise was in charge of the patroness, Mrs. Fish, and the president of the Circle, Madeline McClellan. A duet by Gladys Christy and Mary Wilson was sung.

Mrs. Moore installed the officers of the Circle and the new chapter. The chapter chose as its name the "McClellan" chapter, in honor of one of the girls of the church, Miss Edith McClellan, who is now teaching at Wasatch academy, Mt. Pleasant, Utah. The officers installed were: McClellan chapter, president, Gladys Christy: vice president, Ruth Nebo: secretary, Mary Wilson; secretary of literature, Blanche Wilson, and treasurer, Winona Wishart. Golden Hour Circle, president, Madeline McClellan; vice president, Katherine Hoge; secretary, Ellen Virgin, and treasurer, Aleene Reynolds. A solo, "Do Your Part," was sung by Ruth Nebo, with a full chorus by all present. After prayer by the pastor, Dr. Fish, the social committee, Elsie Virgin, Blanche Wilson and Winona Wishart, took charge. They were assisted by Margaret Nicholson and Ruth Nebo. They served a fine lunch to more than thirty.

Local Marine Pays Respect To Antietam

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—Viewing the old battlefield where the armies of McClellan and Lee fought for supremacy in the Civil war, Bennie Meister, son of William Meister, 901 Meadow avenue, Charleroi, is with the U. S. Marines who traveled afoot and by motor truck 125 miles from their barracks at Quantico, Va., near here, to hold field exercises at Antietam.

On this historic spot near Sharpsburg, Md., the Marine Corps Expeditionary force, commanded by Brigadier General Dion Williams, is reenacting some of the incidents of the famous battle, using modern military weapons while skirmishing over the ground where the blue and gray soldiers fought in 1862.

Field exercises, reviews, parades and visits to nearby points of interest form a lively program of events, which will end when the force returns to Quantico late this month, after an absence of nearly four weeks. The Marines will encamp over night at selected places along the route.

Bennie joined the Marine Corps at Pittsburgh several months ago, and is now with the Eighth Company, Fifth Regiment. He recently returned from Santo Domingo, having completed a tour of duty in the West Indies. More than one hundred Marines from Pennsylvania are with the expeditionary force.

MAN QUESTIONED IN CONNECTION WITH A ROBBERY

Castle Shannon, Sept. 10.—Arrested late today, Andrew Schaneabitch of Castle Shannon was taken to the county detective headquarters where he was questioned in connection with a daring robbery by two bandits at the home of Tommy Adamsky of Horning road, Butler township.

Adamsky was held at the point of a gun in a field near his home, while bandits threatened the life of his wife and ransacked the entire house, escaping with $4,000 stolen from a trunk. Schaneabitch, who is charged with the deed, made his home with Adamsky for a time and was a close friend of his. County detectives are confident that the entire case will be uncovered within a short time.

"Bing" Miller Is New Coach For California Team

The California High School Gridiron athletes will make their second attempt for W. P. I. A. L. honors this season, they having been eliminated last year by a lone defeat at the hands of Charleroi High. This year's team will be practically the same as last season's with the exception of W. Smith, who is with West Virginia freshmen, and "Ned" Patterson, who entered California Normal.

With the departure of Coach Thomas to Ambridge High, the athletic committee selected "Bing" Miller, a former Allegheny College star, to coach this year's gridders.

With Captain Edwards, one of the leading point scorers in scholastic football, back at school this year, the Californians will be greatly strengthened. It is expected the team, which is said to have about about 30 members, regulars and substitutes, will be among the strongest ever representing California High.

MICKEY WALKER WILL MEET BARRETT SEPTEMBER 29

Mickey Walker, welterweight champion of the world will go through with his fight with Bobby Barrett, of Philadelphia, scheduled September 29 in that city, regardless of the New York boxing commission's recent edict that he should meet Dave Shade first Joseph Degnan, Walker's manager announced last night.

The New York boxing commission ordered Walker to meet Shade after an examination of Benny Leonard's thumb revealed the lightweight champion would be unable to go through with his scheduled fight with Walker, September 21.

In the meantime, however, immediately after it became known that Leonard would be unable to fight, Walker signed to meet Barrett in Philadelphia.

THE COMMISIONERS ARE AT STATE CONVENTION

County Commissioners J. W. Walker J. E. Johnston and W. A. Barnes are at Reading this week in attendance on the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State association of County Commissioners. Mr. Walker is president, having been elected last year when this county entertained the convention. An important report to come before the meeting this week will be that of the legislative committee, which will have some matters for presentation to the next session of the legislature, and for which it wishes association endorsement. This committee has had several meetings during the past few weeks. H. M. Stine of Dauphin county, is on the legislative committee. It has met jointly, at times, with the executive committee.

CORSAIRS DAMPEN ARDOR BY LOSING DOUBLE HEADER

Branch Rickey's lowly Cardinals yesterday followed the example set last Sunday by the Reds and dished out a double disaster to the Pirates, who were squelched 7 to 4 in the first section of the bargain and 6 to 4 in the twilight session.

Home runs by Max Carey and Chick Hafey featured the opening encounter. Hafey's circuit clout in the fifth inning came when the bases were vacant but the St. Louis recruit delivered his with Ray Blades on the runways ahead. Both drives dropped in the right field bleachers. Hafey also produced a triple and a single in the same contest, while Pie Traynor likewise hauled three swats in that particular frolic, but all of them were one-sackers.

Emil Yde who started the hurling was unable to overcome an attack of wildness until two walks and three wallops including a triple and a double, had given St. Louis team four points to begin with and then in the third inning, Hafey's homer netted two more and put the Pittsburgers out of the running.

Ray Kremer finished and held a tight rein, the only tally permitted by him being unearned. Allan Sothoron, however, kept McKechnie's men awed by his spitter and whenever they attempted to become dangerous, they were soon forced to curl up and be good little boys.

They led off in the second clash with such fury that it looked for one brief instant as if they were about to demolish the ball park, but as soon as they had knocked in a couple of runs Johnny Stuart stepped on the gas and stopped the assault.

Then he held the Forbes fielders helpless until long after his mates had passed them, when he allowed another pair of markers to materialize but he never was in danger after the first chapter.

JURY SAYS GIRL'S DEATH IS ACCIDENTAL

BIG DAY ON SATURDAY AT THE GOLF CLUB

The coming week-end promises to be one of the biggest golf periods that Washington has had in a long while. In addition to the tournament of the Western Pennsylvania "pros" to be held next Monday, which in itself is one of the most pretentious affairs in golfdom ever staged in this section, the Washington County Golf and Country club has arranged to play next Saturday that will keep all the golfing members of the popular club busy throughout the afternoon.

Announcement was made yesterday that play for the President's cup offered by M. W. McClane, the club executive, will be held next Saturday afternoon. The winner of this cup, a handsome trophy, will become permanent possession. In addition Secretary Carl D. Schultz has offered a golf bag, while the directors have hung up a golf club. Sweepstakes will also prevail and close to 15 prizes will be the target for the golfers to shoot at. The play will be 18 holes medal, under assigned handicaps.

Never in the history of the Washington County Golf club has there been one afternoon of so much attractiveness. Indications are that between 75 and 100 golfers of the Washington Country club will participate in the afternoon's competition. A request is made that all who can, start early in the afternoon, in order to avoid all possible crowding of the links.

The "pro" tourney on Monday is attracting a lot of attention and indications are that close to a half hundred of the leading "pros" in this district will participate.

PRICE WAS CUT IF THEY WERE GOING TO CHURCH

Wilkes-Barre, Sept. 10.—One hundred years ago people from the west side of the Susquehanna River coming into the little borough of Wilkes-Barre on Sunday could ride the ferry for half price—if they were going to church.

Old records just brought to light here show that the borough council passed a resolution remitting the tax on ferry tickets for those coming to church on Sunday thus cutting the ferry charge in half.

Wilkes-Barre had only one church in those days, the records show and that was located on what is now Public Square in the heart of the city. Many of the members of the church came from farms on the west side of the river.

DRINKING OF COFFEE IS ON THE INCREASE

America drinks forty per cent more coffee than it did twelve years ago, according to reliable figures just made public by the Foodstuffs Division of the United States Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce.

Despite this amazing gain, however, the coffee drinking palm does not belong to this country. Four European countries exceed it in per capita consumption. Denmark leads with 15.7 pounds per person; Sweden is second with 15.4 pounds; Holland, third with 14.7 pounds and Norway, fourth with 14.3 pounds. Then comes the United States with an official government consumption of 12.17 pounds per capita.

Nor is an increase of forty per cent in coffee consumption giving America a record for the world to shoot at. Italy and France have eclipsed the feat of this country during the past twelve years by fifty-six per cent and fifty-two per cent, respectively.

In the 1913 crop year, there was retained for consumption in the United States 858,919,058 pounds, valued at $118,309,911. In 1924 (the crop year which ran from July 1, 1923 to June 30, 1924) there was retained for consumption here, 1,398,364,211 pounds, valued at $291,039,142.

Triangular Wheels

The cars that travel the "rocky road to Dublin" would have a much rougher time of it if their wheels were like those that the Mongolian peasant uses on his ox cart. The two wheels, says Mr. A. S. Kent in "Old Tartar Trails," are unprotected by iron tires, and therefore with constant use over stony roads they soon lose their roundness and become first octagonal, then hexagonal and then pentagonal. At that point the Mongol begins to think that he ought to have new wheels; but before his caravan has reached a place where he can find a Chinese to do the work the wheels have passed the rectangular stage and have become triangular, and the vehicle will go no farther.

China's Great Wall

This historic wall, extending for a distance of more than 1,700 miles across the northern boundary of the Chinese empire, was built by the Emperor Chi-hoang-ti about 200 B. C. It was built to protect his dominions against the incursions of the Tartars, Kalmucks and other northern tribes, but proved utterly useless. It was from 25 to 30 feet high and 20 feet thick at the base, but tapered to a thickness of 15 feet at the top. It was surmounted by towers 35 to 40 feet in height, at intervals of 200 or 300 yards. The "Great Wall" is said to have required ten years to build, and to have caused the death of tens of thousands of workmen.

Monkeys With Smallpox?

Explorers of the Brazilian wilds have reported finding monkeys showing clear traces of having suffered from smallpox, says a message from Rio de Janeiro. George Clarke Bleyer, an expert on life in the Brazilian forests, points out that there is no good reason why wandering animals and insects should not carry smallpox germs from human victims to their simian cousins.

Excels in Strength and Performance

In its admiration of the good Maxwell's ability to outperform anything at anywhere near the price, the American public should remember—

1st.—That no other car in America, regardless of price, excels Maxwell strength and staunchness in proportion to weight and power.

2nd.—That at all vital points, metals and construction are the same as in cars that cost three to four times as much.

3rd.—That in its manufacture, no measures are too costly to protect the owner fully, in person and in pocket.

Those are the precise reasons why the good Maxwell—now under the supervision of Chrysler engineers—stands up and delivers its splendid service at such amazingly low cost.

All Maxwell dealers are in position to extend the convenience of time-payments. Ask about Maxwell's attractive plan.

MR. MERCHANT:

Have you ever thought of this?

YOU may be entertained by news of the Yanks and the Giants, but you are not vitally interested unless you have money at stake; and the shifting of European boundaries doesn't affect you half so much as the softness of your mattress, the comfort of your shoes, what you ate for breakfast, how much your last hat cost.

That's why advertising news deserves as much attention as sporting or international news. The advertisments keep you informed of all the latest comforts and conveniences that can make your daily living more delightful. They tell where to secure the best, how to save money, how to lessen work, have a better home, better food, better clothes, more luxuries.

You can't keep up with the daily news---the kind that affects you most ---unless you read the advertisements.

They are the chronometers of local time. You'll find it highly profitable to adjust your living by them.

Advertising is the only news that really saves you money--read them all. The wide-awake merchant has his own little story to tell in the Mail advertising columns.

THE GREAT DAY HERE.

The committee in charge of Charleroi's participation in National Defense day has every reason to feel enthusiastic over the prospects of a patriotic showing on the part of the people of their loyalty to the government. The plans for the mobilization of the resources of the community promise an impressive showing.

Starting with Monday, the office of the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has been visited by men willing to volunteer their names and have "matriculated" for the great day. September 12 is the sixth anniversary of the beginning of the drive on St. Mihiel, which ended the war.

The purpose of the test is to show how quickly a military emergency could be met by the people of the United States, and how efficiently.

Charleroi is loyal. It is important that this loyalty be translated into such a demonstration here that will forever remove any doubt that may exist in the minds of malcontents of the patriotism of the people of the borough.

There will be a parade, in which every citizen who enrolls, may take part. It is the desire of the governmentt that every citizen of this, in common with other communities, shall give overt acts of their loyalty to this country. Those who shun their duty may be under the suspicion of not being true blue to the land that gave them birth.

THE ENDS OF JUSTICE.

The sentence imposed by Judge John R. Caverly in the case of the two boy murderers will be the subject of comment for days to come throughout the length and breadth of this country, even reaching to foreign lands, where interest in the case is hardly less than that taken in the United States.

Judge Caverly was doubtless actuated in his decision by the evidence, and was not swayed through virtue of the wealth of the youths, or other pressure. To those who do not believe in capital punishment, the verdict will meet with approval; to those who believe that the boys were sane at the time of the commitment of the crime; that it was atrocious, deliberate, with no mitigating circumstances which would admit of the verdict of the Judge, the sentence imposed, will not meet with popular favor.

Here we have two boys reared in luxury, self-confessed murderers, with the evidence showing that the deed was planned, and they are given a sentence which makes pardon in the years to come not an improbability. Have the ends of justice been subserved by the decision of the Court? This is a momentous question with a variance of opinion; but sentiment in Chicago, where the crime was committed, seems to be that the boys should have been hanged for a crime which was confessed, and premeditated, and that they were in full possession of their normal faculties at its commitment.

The development of agencies whereby war can be made more terrible and devastating than ever seems to know no end. It is stated that there are now at least a thousand poison gases available compared with only about thirty that came into existence during the World war.

That political fight in Maine is no ordinary affair. The list of Republican speakers so far has included one Cabinet officer, two Senators, seven Congressmen, two former Governors and two former Congressmen, as well as the candidate for vice president.

Byron's poetical observation a century ago that man's control "stops at the shore" (of the ocean) is recalled by the recent storm that cruelly tossed even great liners such as the Homeric and Arabic and piled up a long list of injured passengers.

It seems that the anti-Klan victory in Texas is bigger than Mrs. Ferguson's majority indicated. Mr. Moody, the candidate for Attorney General, who fought the Klan tooth and nail, ran 100,000 ahead of her.

Philosophical

There is a certain relief in change, even though it be from bad to worse; as I have found in traveling in a stage coach, that it is often a comfort to shift one's position and be bruised in a new place.—Washington Irving.

Joke on Archeologists

Fossils of prehistoric animals which lived during the great Ice age are found in certain layers of blue clay in Tennessee. Man, it has been claimed, arrived on the scene thousands of years after these blue clay deposits were made. Recently, however, geologists working near the site of an old Indian earthwork found some of this same sort of blue clay. Underneath this clay were human bones. The discovery was exciting—the geological evidence seemed to place the first Tennesseeans back with Ice age fossils. Then some kill-joy in the party discovered that the Indians had evidently transported this clay from some distance and packed it down into flat layers resembling geological strata.

Valuable Black Walnut

A number of native black-walnut trees have been discovered whose nuts possess superior cracking qualities. By means of scions or buds from the original trees, these are being propagated in greater numbers each year, since the value of the nut crop is thereby greatly enhanced and the timber is of the same high quality as that of other walnut trees. Stocks of these selected trees are available in limited numbers from the owners and make possible the growing of valuable nut trees about the home or in nut orchards, says the American Forestry association.

Forced to Beg Off

An indefatigable traveler, arriving in New York, did not go to the palatial [illegible] but put up in an obscure hotel on a side street. But the very next day he bumped into the manager of the down-to-the-minute hostelry where he had always stopped and where he was known so well.

"Why, Mr. Blank," was the shocked greeting, "in New York and not stopping with us?"

"It's this way, old fellow," explained Blank contritely. "I'm too tired this trip to live up to the unparalleled service you give."

Protest Over Idle Mozambique Land

A large number of cases are involved.

Paints on Web of Spider

Berlin.—What is regarded as one of the most singular works of art in existence is now in the possession of a Berlin dealer. It is a painting 6 by 4 inches, executed on a spiderweb and preserved by being clamped between two plates of glass, so that one can examine it on both sides. The scene depicted is that of a happy family sitting together.

Elk Annoy Farmers

Wenatchee, Wash.—Elk, said to be adept at scaling fences and making short work of ordinary haystacks, are troublesome to farmers near Okanogan. Organized groups repeatedly have driven the elk herds back into the foothills by firing blank shells over their heads, but with the return of hunger the animals revisit the farm lands.

Some Family!

Huntington, W. Va.—Deputy Marshal E. E. Burkirk of this city has discovered what is claimed to be the largest Republican family in the state. The head of the family, Samuel Spalding, eighty-one, lives in Wayne county, and is the father of 22 children. The oldest child is aged fifty-seven, and the youngest has just passed its first birthday.

COSTS MORE TO EDUCATE THAN IS RECEIVED

It costs the University of Pittsburgh $102.58 more to educate a student for a year than the student pays for tuition, it was revealed today by a study of University receipts and expenditures just completed by the Citizens' Committee of the University. Homer D. Williams, president of the Carnegie Steel Company and chairman of the Committtee stated that the average tuition paid by a Pitt student is $211.56, while the average cost per student is $314.14.

In medicine, it was said, the cost of educating a student is nearly three times as high as the assessment made upon the student. The average student of medicine costs the University $828.57 a year, whereas the tuition for that school, though higher than for any other in the University, is but $300. In engineering, a student, paying $200 for tuition, costs $583.22 a year to educate. The especially high cost of education in medicine and engineering, it was said, is due to the expensive equipment necessary for such teaching.

The Citizens' Committee, by which the study of educational costs was made, is a group of 100 prominent Pittsburgh men organized to study the services of the University to the city and to survey the needs of the University.

Collapsible Canoe Carried on Auto Has Seats for Two Persons

For the automobile tourist who likes to fish and paddle, a collapsible canoe has been imported from Germany which can be packed in a bundle, six inches in diameter and forty-eight inches long, and weighs only thirty-five pounds. When assembled, which can be accomplished in ten minutes, it is fifteen feet long, with waterproof spray shields at each end, and seats two people in comfort.

"Loudest Noise" Deafens Persons Ten Miles from Blast

What is believed to be the loudest noise ever made by man is reported to have deafened persons within a ten-mile radius in France. Ten tons of explosive were set off in order to observe the speed of sound and to discover the cause of the "zones of silence," first noticed during heavy barrages in the war, when cannon could be heard at long distances, yet the explosions were inaudible nearer to the guns. Observers were stationed in many of the principal cities, some 600 miles away.

Handy Block Makes Can Opening Easy

Many women find it hard to hold cans firmly when opening them, and will therefore appreciate the simple device shown in the drawing.

A block of 1-in wood is cut with a V-shaped opening, as shown, and the faces of the vee covered with strips of fine emery cloth, glued to the wood; the block is then screwed to the work top of the kitchen cabinet. The can to be opened is pushed into the V-notch, where a very light pressure holds it securely. With the can held firmly in this manner, opening it is a very simple operation, requiring no heavy exertion. The angle of the notch and the size of the block should be such that it will hold any size of ordinary can.

Camp Meals Are Cooked Easily on Revolving Bracket Grid

Much of the unpleasantness of cooking over the camp fire may be eliminated by the use of a revolving bracket grid recently invented. It consists of a short, pointed base which is driven into the ground and about which the fire is built, an extension tube, a revolving top piece and four interchangeable grids. Several things may be cooked at once, and a light touch is sufficient to swing the arrangement around for stirring the contents of a pot or for placing anything over the hottest part of the fire without stepping into the smoke. The entire outfit is quickly assembled or taken apart, occupies but little space and is durable. The surfaces of the cooking grids are angular-shaped, making them easy to clean and well suited to broiling steak or toasting bread.

Some of the larger iron bedsteads often sag down on the rollers so that it is difficult to move them about. This can be cured by driving a hardwood plug into the bottom of each post and boring a ⅝-in. hole in it, then putting in a regular roller intended for wooden beds.

What Are They All Saying About "One-Shot"?

NOTABLE among the new features of the 1925 Cleveland Six is the "One Shot" Lubrication System which eliminates all greasing of the chassis by hand.

No other automotive improvement of the year is the subject of so much discussion.

Owners now are often being stopped and asked, "Is it as marvelous as I have heard? Show me how it works!"

Step on the Plunger—And Oil the Entire Car

To lubricate all moving chassis parts, you merely step on a plunger. You do not leave the driver's seat. You never have to use a grease gun or an oil can.

With this exclusive, patented feature, you are saved the frequent inconvenience of leaving your car for several hours for a thorough greasing.

The danger of neglected chassis lubrication will never bother you again.

Your car is always free from squeaks and rattles. For "One-Shot" can be used whether the car is standing still or moving.

See this famous feature of the newest, finest Cleveland Six!

Mileage Motor—Four-Wheel Brakes—Balloon Tires

Then after you have seen how "One-Shot" works—get behind the wheel and test the Mileage Motor.

Its phenomenal hill-climbing power, flashing pick-up, and speed of over 60 miles an hour, make it probably the most efficient power plant in use today.

Study the entire car and you will sense the reason for its popularity:—

Bodies that are roomy and aristocratic in appearance; genuine super-size balloon tires as standard equipment; four-wheel brakes as optional equipment at a slight extra cost; and rugged, long-life construction throughout.

So fine a car was never obtainable at so low a price. Arrange today to drive yourself! Touring car, $1095; Five-passenger sedan, $1395; f. o. b. Cleveland.

Seven "Bibles" in All

Other scriptures regarded as Bibles, in order of age, are as follows: The Zendavesta of the Persians, which contains the sayings of Zoroaster; the Three Vedas of the Hindoos; the Five Kings of the Chinese; the Pitikes of the Buddhists; the Koran of the Mohammedans; the Eddas of the Scandinavians. The Bible is the oldest of these, while the Koran is the most recent, about the Seventh century. The Eddas were not published until the Fourteenth century.

Famous English Society

The Royal Geographical Society of England was founded in 1830. Its object is to collect, register, digest and print in a cheap and convenient form such useful and interesting facts and discoveries as the society might from time to time acquire. It has always welcomed to its fellowship those anxious to further this object by their interest and support as well as those able to take a more active part in their work of discovery and explorations.

Nature of Static

As spoken of in connection with radio static is a condition in which electro-magnetic waves affect the receiving set. Static is produced by electrical storms and by atmospheric electrical discharges. Such waves are also known as "strays" or "x's." Briefly, static may be said to be electric waves set in motion by atmospheric disturbances as distinguished from [illegible] tion.

SEARCH FOR A MILL WORKER

Officers of the law in this section have been asked to assist in the search that has been instituted for one Charles Elko, aged about 39 years, a cripple, and a man who is said to have been in the employ of the mills at Allenport. According to report, Elko disappeared from his boarding house in Allenport about three weeks ago, since which time no trace of him has been found. His disappearance is regarded as very mysterious.

Elko formerly worked in the tinmill at Monessen for a period of 13 years prior to accepting a position at the Allenport plant of the Pittsburgh Steel Products.

In December, of 1923, he lost his right hand while at work, and was confined in a hospital for some time, but to all intents and purposes he recovered from his injuries, and resumed labor at the mill. It is said that about six weeks ago he visited his brotherinlaw at Monongahela; at this time his actions are reported to have been strange, but after remaining for about two weeks, he returned to Allenport, where he stayed for a week and then suddenly disappeared.

When he left he wore a gray coat and black trousers. His hair is a mixture of black and gray. He can be easily identified through virtue of his missing hand. His brother-in-law, Andy Bizilo, Box 152, Monongahela, will be pleased to receive any information concerning the missing man.

Joyful Family Reunion.

"Two of my brothers, a sister, as well as myself have been chronic sufferers from gas in stomach, indigestion, pain in right side, near appendix and liver trouble for many years. My sister tried Mayr's Wonderful Remedy with such good results that we all took a course of it and it helped in each case. Last Sunday we had a family reunion in celebration of our recovery and what we all did eat." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

WORK BEING PUSHED RIVER VALLEY ROAD

Section In Forward And Elizabeth Townships Will Give Improved Outlet to Many Persons—Improvement Is Important One

STRETCH OF THREE MILES

Portion of the Old Robbston Pike And Leads Up Ella Hollow to Borough of West Newton—Connects With Axleton-Sunnyside Highway

The contractors for the three-mile stretch of highway in Forward and Elizabeth townships, Messrs. Mostellier and Virgin, are pushing the work of improvement with vigor.

This highway is a section of the old Robertson pike, and leads up Ella hollow to West Newton. The road connects with the Axelton-Sunnyside highway, a portion of the Pike's Peak ocean to ocean road which passes through the cities of Monongahela and Washington.

The reconstructed portion begins at the eastern end of Milesville and continues to the Allegheny County line, almost miles from the Torrens farm. The contractors have two steam shovels at work, and expect to do all the grading this fall, as well as pouring concrete on the portion between Milesville and Torrens.

There is no heavy grading on this section of the roadway, but the highway is being widened, while some of the bad curves on the road are being removed. The only thing now to hold up the advance of the contractors will be the weather conditions. An open fall will mean completion of much of the highway.

It is reported that the lower section of the road between Axleton and the railroad crossing at Milesville will be open for traffic on October 6. This will open up a four-mile road between Axleton and the railroad crossing at Milesville will be open for traffic on October 6. This will open up a four-mile road between Axleton and Milesville, permitting an improved highway outlet to 5,000 or more residents. Some of this road is already completed, but the upper end is not finished. The contractor, the Rothey Company of Elizabeth, is making good progress.

The houses in the Milesville row will have to be moved back toward the river 17 feet, this work scheduled to begin this week. Once the residences are removed, the tracks of the P. & L. E. railroad will be moved and the improved highway constructed on the site formerly occupied by the railroad tracks. It is expected that this work will be completed next year.

Five Wigs Helped Him Live Two Lives in Paris

Paris.—An amazing double life for four years has been lived by the sixty-three-year-old cashier of the Opera Comique, one of the state theaters of Paris.

This bald-headed little man, who has startled the directors of the theater by confessing to the embezzlement of nearly £7,000, has led for 34 years what is apparently a most regular and respectable married life as a Parisian of the modest middle class on a salary of £20 a month.

He is now discovered to have lived since 1920 a parallel existence in a disguise which no one for a moment suspected.

In this role he would leave the theater at nine o'clock and visit a young woman whom he had taken under his protection, and to whom, in addition to paying her living expenses, he allowed £40 a month pocket money.

At midnight he would return to his "dressing room," take off his disguise and, half an hour later, arrive at the tiny flat where his wife and daughter lived, bearing no sign of his nightly metamorphosis into a rich-man-about-town.

RECRUITS COMING FOR DEFENSE DAY

P. Snow, Fred Olinger. While it may be that all the members of the [illegible] partment will not be able to be in the parade, they have signified their willingness to co-operate and as full a turnout as is possible will take part.

The American Legion is 100 per cent behind Defense day and the local Post is expected to sign up 100 per cent strong in the local unit to be formed. Legionnaires are requested to sign up before Friday at the Municipal building, or at Piper's Drug store, or John Sutch's Cigar store.

Mobillization of the units in Charleroi will take place Friday morning, some time between 5 and 7 o'clock. A signal will be given by twelve taps of the fire bell when all men who have signed up as one day volunteers are to report to the Citizens' Committee at the railroad station for Roll call. Immediately after Roll call the "rookies" will be turned over to the Reserve officers for further instructions as to the day's activities. It is the plan of the officers to instruct the men and then disband until 7:30 in the evening, when all will be expected to report for duty at the Municipal building, when a parade of the principal streets of Charleroi will be held. Immediately after the parade a patriotic address will be delivered by Tom P. Sloan of North Charleroi, and prayer will be offered by Rev. Dr. E. H. Greenlee of the M. E. church of Charleroi.

Various Scoutmasters of the Boy Scouts have signified their willingness to have the Boy Scouts of Charleroi take part in the parade. While the boys are not of military age and theirs is not a military organization it is their desire to show their patriotism by taking part in the National Defense Day program.

LAFOLLETTE CLUB IS FORMED HERE

Workers Cross Chasm on Wire Foot Bridge

Tourists who are looking for red-blooded thrills need go no farther than Pearson's logging camp, near Bellingham, Wash., where a woven chicken-wire foot bridge enables workmen to cross a yawning ravine 120 feet deep. When the men went across this chasm to cut down firs and hemlocks the problem of getting them back to camp for meals and lodging was difficult. They had to crawl down into the valley and climb up the opposite steep precipice twice each day. The management then planned a cable bridge, but found the expense prohibitive, says the New York World.

Finally the woven-wire idea was advanced and tested out. Three thicknesses of wire netting 450 feet long hang across the valley. At intervals of five inches 12-inch boards are stapled on for treads. Every tenth board extends out three feet each side of the bridge, to which braces woven wire is fastened. In calm weather crossing the bridge is pleasant, but on windy days it has a swing of three feet in the middle directly over the deepest part of the chasm.

RADIO HEADSET ON GAS JET CAUSES DEATH

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 10. — When Arthur Hill threw aside his radio headset it lodged on the gas jet causing a leak. He died during the night from axphxiation.
